

Orosur Mining Inc. – Appointment of Brad George as Non-Executive Director

Medellín, Colombia, May 1, 2020. Orosur Mining Inc. (“Orosur” or “the Company”) (TSX/AIM: OMI), a South American-focused gold developer and explorer, is delighted to announce the appointment of Brad George, 54, as Non-Executive Director of the Company with immediate effect.

Mr. George is a geoscientist by profession, with over 30 years’ experience in global mineral exploration, development and financing. In particular, Mr. George has a long history in South America, having managed, assessed, and financed projects and companies in a range of countries across the continent. Currently Brad is focused on managing gold and base metals exploration projects in West Africa, and therefore offers broad and specialized skills in mineral exploration across the developing world.

In addition, Mr. George spent several years as a rated mining analyst in London, focusing on AIM listed miners and thus has a sound understanding of capital markets and financial management of exploration, feasibility and development programs.

Mr. George is resident in Perth, Western Australia, is a member of the Australian Institute of Geoscientists, and is a JORC Competent Person for the reporting of mineral exploration results.

Ignacio Salazar, CEO of Orosur, commented:

“We are very pleased to announce the appointment of Brad to the Orosur Board and we are excited that he has chosen to join us, as we advance the Anzá Project in Colombia with Newmont and complete the process in Uruguay whilst progressing other opportunities in South America. Brad has a proven track record of mining excellence in technical, capital markets and general management areas. Brad’s significant experience in gold exploration and development will be of great benefit. We now look forward to working with him as we continue to advance the growth plans of the Company.”
